Twenty-five members of the Senior Class have been elected to Delta Epsilon Sigma, the National Scholastic Honor Society for students and graduates of Catholic colleges and universities, according to an announcement from the office of the Dean.

Featuring for its purpose academic excellence, this honor society draws its student membership from the top ten percent of the class based upon scholastic honor rating. Delta Epsilon Sigma is one means of giving recognition and encouragement to students in Catholic colleges and universities who maintain high scholastic averages.

Holy Cross' latest addition to this society includes William A. Eagan, Jr., a member of Alpha Sigma Nu, the Purple Key and Editor in Chief of the TOMAHAWK and John D. Carroll, Jr., Sports Editor of the Purple Patcher and of the TOMAHAWK. Among former contributors to the TOMAHAWK elected are Peter J. Flynn, a member of Alpha Sigma Nu and Editor in Chief of this year's Purple Patcher, John B. CROSS TEAM WINS 2nd TROPHY IN N.E.C.I. BRIDGE TOURNAMENT

The First Annual New England Catholic Intercollegiate Bridge Tournament, sponsored by the Wolverine Club of Holy Cross, was held in Fenwick Hall last Sunday. The four schools participating were Assumption College, Worcester, Providence College, Wellesley, and Holy Cross.

Al Reede, President of the Wolverine Club was the originator of the tournament and program director. His committee was made up of Bill Wise, chairman of the pre-Tournament activity, and Dan Murphy, in charge of extra-Tournament details.

The teams finished with Vander Putten and Wolfe of Holy Cross first, LaPredd and Le Blanc of Assumption second. Third place was awarded to O'Brien and Shields of the Cross.

Three trophies were donated by the Olympic Sporting Goods Company of Worcester and other individuals inter- (Turn to Page Four)

1949 Yearbook Claims To Be 'Outstanding'

Editor-in-Chief Peter J. Flynn and Business Manager Richard W. Packer of the 1949 Purple Patcher officially announced today that the '49 Patcher is nearing the date of publication and will be distributed next week. This announcement is even more welcomed than in previous years because of the fact that this will be the first Patcher published "on time" since 1943.

The largest volume since the end of the war, the '49 Patcher promises many new features and innovations. Those aside from the Patcher staff who have had a part in producing this volume have already voiced their approval regarding the yearbook. In a letter to Mr. Russell C. Knight of the Stobbs Press, Mr. K. G. Cooley, vice-president and sales manager of the S. K. Smith Company, nationally known yearbook cover concern and manufacturers of the '49 Patcher cover writes: "This is one book, Russ, that we think is really going to be outstanding. We will readily confess that we are proud of the job."

Mr. Cooley continues: "We also (Turn to Page Six)

Prize Debate Won By Seniors

B.C. Defeated Twice In Week by B.J.F.; Speech Contest Near

The long awaited Senior-Junior Prize Debate climaxed a most successful year for the B.J.F., as the senior team composed of John Kallagher and Richard Buellesbach on the negative side met Louis Introcaso and John Flaherty, the junior representatives, Wednesday evening.

Under discussion was the Intercollegiate topic 'Federal Aid to Education' and it proved especially interesting because both teams previously had been undefeated on this nationally important subject. Incidentally, Kallagher and Buellesbach won this prize debate as juniors last year. The three faculty judges decided that the senior side was to receive the $25 reward and Richard Buellesbach was selected as best speaker.

On Thursday, April 28 Louis Introcaso and Joseph Hallinan defeated Boston College at Dorchester for the second successive victory by the B.J.F. over our traditional rivals. The topic (Turn to Page Ten)

Literary Chiefs McCall And Masterpool Retire

The Holy Cross Purple has announced the appointment of its new Editor-in-Chief for 1950, J. Kirby Hendee, '50.

Since he terminated a 3-year tour in the army, the elements of which can be read in his very fine article in the February issue of the Purple, Hendee has quietly become Secretary of the Cross and Scroll, Instructor of candidates for the Sodality, an accomplished debater in the B.J.F., a St. John Berchman Society member and an avid contributor to the History Society. His literary efforts have been lauded by students and faculty alike and well qualify him for the honor of Pilot of our Magazine.

The staff members of the Purple held their annual dinner Tuesday evening at Putnam and Thurston's. Short speeches were given by the moderators, Fathers Ryan and Izzo and the retiring Co-Editors-in-Chief Mike Masterpool and John McCall. Each member was presented a silver memento for their fine work for the year. George McVey was in charge of arrangements.

SOCIAL CALENDAR

Student Government officials have set May 14 as the date that all requests for next year's Social Calendar must be submitted. All organizations wishing to conduct any social event or campus activity during the first semester must submit their plans and requested date at this time. Plans and dates for the second semester should be submitted now if possible, but will be accepted next fall after the opening of school. This information and any questions should be sent to P. O. Box 541, or left at the SG Office, Room 31, lower Carlin.

The Calendar will be drawn up during the summer, and should be completed before school opens in the fall. At the request of the Student Government, Leon E. Kelley will again have charge of drawing up the Calendar.

Lawrence Arrives For Junior Prom; Ten Finalists Selected For Queen

Decorations Completely Transform Gym; Ball Game, Picnic, Purple Key Dance Saturday

Plans have been completed and all is in readiness for the week-end of the year at Holy Cross. Junior Prom Chairman Edward C. Chandler and his committee have completed final details for tomorrow night's Prom featuring the music of America's favorite college band, Elliot Lawrence.

Ten finalists have been chosen for the first Prom Queen Contest by Contest Chairman Len Cody. The gym is now being decorated in a manner never seen before at Holy Cross for a Junior Prom. The Outing Club has provided a picnic locale for Saturday afternoon, the baseball team will meet Dartmouth in one of their feature games that afternoon, and the Purple Key has planned a gala dance for Saturday eve in the friendly atmosphere of the Hillcrest Country Club.

Radio To Relay Prom Music

Lawrence and Prom Queen to be Interviewed

Leon E. Kelly, Station Manager of WCHC, has announced that the Radio Workshop will broadcast music directly from the Junior Prom and will also air the crowning on the Prom Queen.

This is an unprecedented event in the history of the College. A wire has been strung from Station WCHC to the gym over which the music of Elliot Lawrence and his orchestra will be featured tomorrow evening from 10:30 until 10:55 p.m. After the news broadcast at 10:55, the crowning of the Queen of the Junior Prom will take place, presented over WCHC from 11 o'clock until 11:15 p.m. The Prom Queen will be interviewed over WCHC at this time.

A great deal of preparation is necessary for this special presentation. Go-ahead signals from Mr. Lawrence's (Turn to Page Ten)

Juniors have been granted their traditional holiday for Friday afternoon and Saturday. The notice of the Friday afternoon cancellation of classes puts an end to the conflicting rumors on the subject which have been sweeping the campus.

A 2:00 a.m. late permission for Friday night and a 1:00 a.m. permission for Saturday have been granted by Father Deevy.

The ten Prom Queen finalists, picked by Cody and his committee, include Jeannine Campbell of the Salter Secretarial School and the date of Albert Harter; Jacquelyn Cummins of Silver Grove, Kentucky, and the date of Robert Massa; Joan Cunningham of Albertus Magnus College and the date of Vin Scully; Virginia Brungard of the Academy of Visitation, St. Louis and the date of John Dowd; Rosalie Dunne of St. Joseph's Academy and the date of Tom Harty; (Turn to Page Ten)

"Doc" Moynagh Plays Title Role in "The Show-off"; Good Supporting Cast

By FRANK DAIGLE

On Monday and Tuesday evening, in Fenwick Auditorium, the Holy Cross Dramatic Society presented George Kelley's "The Show-Off". Starring John R. Moynagh, '49, in the title role and Mrs. Vincent A. Tesell of the Worcester Players Club as Mrs. Fisher, the production proved as great a success as Fenwick's boards have seen. Outstanding in a splendid cast were June M. Higgins, Worcester State Teachers College, '49, as Amy, Ann Marie Owens, Worcester State Teachers College, '50, as Clara, and Jerome V. Amitrani, '49, as Mr. Gill.

John "Doc" Moynagh, whose sterling performances are coming to be expected by Fenwick audiences, led the cast. His portrayal of Aubrey Piper, "The Show-Off", was superb. He played the part with color and enthusiasm, and seemed to take almost as much pleasure in his performance as the audience took from it. Jerry Amitrani's Italian dialect role as Mr. (Turn to Page Three)

Gill provided a light and highly satisfactory interlude in each of the last two acts.

Anne Marie Owens, who is in danger of becoming as much of a fixture in Dramatic Society presentations as John Moynagh, presented another excellent performance in a role which offered little in the way of extreme histrionics. June Higgins, another importation from Worcester State Teachers College also provided a fine performance as Amy, Aubrey's wife.

Aubrey's harassed mother-in-law, Mrs. Fisher, was superbly acted by Mrs. Vincent A. Tesell on loan from the Worcester Players Club. Mrs. Fisher is the principal victim and main foil of Aubrey's boisterous actions. The success of the play was due in great part to the excellent backdrop which she provided for "The Show-Off's" bombastic character.

A rather sparse showing at Monday's performance was very definitely (Turn to Page Three)

VARGA PINNED DOWN

Eugene S. Varga, the noted Russian economist, who had outspokenly disagreed with the official Soviet interpretation of Western politics and economics, recanted last week. He said that the "harsh criticism" by the Communist Party and Press of his book, "Changes in the Capitalist Economy As a Result of World War II", had been "necessary and correct". Varga added that he had not "acted cleverly" in failing to recognize immediately the fallacies in his book. His dastardly mistake lay in writing that the postwar capitalist economy was not facing an imminent crisis. For this he is now humbly repenting "better late than never". Is this an example of that wonderful Russian "freedom of thought and expression" that the Reds are constantly shouting about in the trial of their bigwigs before Judge Medina in New York City?

AT LAST

Communist May Day Parades are generally the occasion for editorialists to haul out their typewriters and launch a vitriolic attack on Joe Stalin's little boys in red, and for all sensible men to bewail the fact that there are so many fools in the world who stage such demonstrations in order to make public idiots out of themselves. This year, for a change, there was a chance for a little praise in the editorial columns and some consolation for those with sane turns of mind. Despite a drenching downpour, a group of 70,000 American citizens turned out in New York City for a "loyalty parade" while another million and a half lined the street to witness it. The weak eighty-one hundred Americans, by title, who proclaimed their loyalty to the Kremlin in the annual Red outburst were insignificant by comparison. It is inspiring to at last discover an enthusiasm in the fight against Communism which has so often been lacking in the past. Zeal and fervor have too often been the trade-mark of the fanatic and the radical. Too often we have been content in the fact that we have the truth, while those who make up in ambition what they lack in truth have taken the ball away from us. Let us hope that the "loyalty parade" of May 1 is the signal that there is at last an awakening of spirit in the ranks of those who fight against atheistic Communism.

MUSIC HATH CHARMS

Perhaps it is true that music charms the savage beast. We wouldn't know. Savage beasts are about the only ones who haven't been exposed to the charms of the Holy Cross Music Clubs in the hundred years of their existence. Ever since their inception a century ago, the Music Clubs have carried the name and spirit of Holy Cross throughout the East. Their inspiring performances and gentlemanly conduct have done much to further the cause of the Crusader wherever they have travelled. Let us join in the chorus congratulating the combined Holy Cross Music Clubs on their one hundred years of service to Holy Cross.

WCHC SPOTLIGHT

By DICK LARKIN

Station WCHC has two extra-special events this week. Tonight, the Sam Cataudella Program, direct from Fenwick Auditorium, which students and faculty alike are cordially invited to attend. And tomorrow evening, WCHC brings music from the Junior Prom, later topped off with the crowning of the Prom Queen. Other special events are as follows:

This evening, after the Sam Cataudella Program, which will be heard from 8:45 until 9:30 p.m., the Radio Playshop will present another of its featured presentations from 9:30 until 10 o'clock. Copyrights do not permit the title of the play to be given. However, it may be said that the play is well-known, and should prove most enjoyable to all who tune in.

Tomorrow evening, Friday, Elliot Lawrence will be interviewed from Studio "A" at 7:15. The popular conductor will be present to answer interesting questions as to his rise up the musical ladder to an established position of orchestra fame. WCHC's well-received request show, Bandland, will be heard at its regular time, 10:00 p.m., but will be curtailed at 10:30 in order to bring music by Elliot Lawrence and his orchestra direct from the Junior Prom. After the news at 10:55, WCHC will return to the gym for the crowning of the Prom Queen.

Next Monday, at 8:05, Warren B. O'Connor will sit before the microphone to bring to everyone his own analysis of current world-wide news. John Trainor, the accomplished freshman violinist who was heard over WCHC several weeks ago, will be back once again at 9 p.m. for some of his finer classical renditions. And at 9:15, another in the series of Knights of Columbus broadcasts will be presented.

Tuesday evening, 9 o'clock, finds Johnny Stavola up in Studio "A" to present his piano variations of popular songs. And at 9:15, it's Quiz Time, with contestants chosen from Fenwick and O'Kane Halls. Terminating the special events of the evening will be the Holy Cross Hit Parade, which airs the favorite current recordings about campus as conducted by the WCHC Hit Parade survey.

Next Wednesday evening, the feature (Turn to Page Six)

OVER THE HILL

Scribner's will publish a life of Cardinal Mindszenty due out this summer. Big sales are hoped for. Speaking of books there's a new one called "You Can't Win" exposing the evils of gambling. The book claims that every system sooner or later breaks down; the mathematical probabilities are always against the bettor; carnival wheels invariably are fixed; most sweepstakes tickets sold in this country are counterfeit and your chance of getting money back in a pyramid club or a chain-letter is one in 2000.

With apologies to "Chief" Eagan. The motto for the T'HAWK should be "All the news that fits".

Notice: The Effective Speaking course is back in the curriculum for next year. A little advice to take it if it is at all possible. It's one of the most practical courses offered on the Hill. And you can take that from a Senior Class that didn't have the opportunity to study speech with Mr. McCann this year.

Last weekend I saw a picture for the want of something better to do and it turned out that I was very pleasantly surprised. The picture was "My Dream Is Yours." A frothy little piece that may strike your fancy as it did mine. Doris Day, too. What do you want to bet that she turns out to be one of the best box office draws in the history of the flickers.

A professor who comes in late is rare: in fact he's in a class by himself.

Music Notes. Be sure to dig Bing and Patti Andrews' new burlesque of Bop called "Bop Spoken Here". Capitol is considering marketing a record called "What Is This Thing Called Bop". It's complete with commentator and examples of music from the first ragtime in New Orleans to current Bop. Also worth hearing—a record by Sammy Davis Jr., "The Way You Look Tonight." Sammy imitates Crosby, Laine, Jolson, Eckstine and Monroe and a good job he does, too.

If you can't make the Prom tomorrow night be sure and listen to WCHC for the music of Elliot Lawrence and the broadcasting of the ceremonies of the crowning of the Prom Queen. And interview, we hope.

College Daze

By AL. CANEDO

Tomorrow night, without a doubt, the Prom-blems printed in last week's TOMAHAWK will be before us with all their frustrations. After setting the ball and chain up in the Sheraton, we'll hurry back to the campus and begin the awful process of "getting ready". The showers will be reverberating with the voices of gravel-toned baritones, the "Fitch" hair glue and the "Wilderness In The Night" hair tonic will be doused on heads which on looking in the mirror cause nausea, neurosis, etc. Some of the boys will no doubt be running across the hall to their "friend" looking for studs, ties, "Eau de Cologne", and if that doesn't work they'll be looking for that stuff that prevents what your best friends don't tell you about. After this battle is over the trek to the Sheraton begins. Here the Haitch Cee man is in need of advice. Upon arriving at the hotel and meeting his date remember, men:

If you tell a girl that her face would stop a clock, you are being insulting; but if you tell her that every time you look at her time stands still, you are a gentleman, a scholar and a true diplomat. As one fellow said:

You can say she is a vision, can't say she is a sight
And no woman is skinny, she's slender and slight,
If she burns you up, say she sets you afire,
And you'll always be welcome, you tricky old liar.

If she is playing the hard to get type then you might try the following poem on her as you present your bouquet. It's guaranteed to get you something.

Love can find so many ways to say
The silent thoughts of this bouquet;
The rose's beauty quickly dies
Fore the beauty of your big blue eyes
Velvety petals, rich and rare,
Lie conquered by your golden hair;
Each bud in swooning sorrow drips
At the sight of your delightful lips.
All in all, you look quite nifty,
You should, my dear; it cost two fifty.

When she starts complaining that your hair isn't combed, your tie isn't straight, or just complaining in general, consider this answer that a "college" man gave his girl.

Boo Boo: Smedley, why didn't you shave to take me to the prom?
Smedley: I did.

Boo Boo: When?

Smedley: When I came over to wait for you.

Everyone at Holy Cross probably thinks that this Junior Prom is the idea of the students. Well, you'll be surprised to know that it isn't. From the diary of a cynic we learn:

"Formal dances are a conspiracy on the part of women to reduce men to the same mold. At one of these affairs all males wear the same attire and fit the same mold while the women all blossom forth in all their glory."

3RD ANNUAL CONGRESS OF N. E. NFCCS HELD IN BOSTON

Archbishop Cushing Opens Assembly by Address to 2,000 Catholic College Students

3-DAY MEETING SEES ELECTION OF NEW REGIONAL OFFICERS

Calling on American Catholic youth to act as individual persons and not as members of a group, Archbishop Richard J. Cushing, D.D., opened the Third Annual Congress of the New England Region, National Federation of Catholic College students, last Friday evening at the Hotel Bradford, Boston. In speaking to a combined group of 2,000 students (including 40 from Holy Cross) from New England NFCCS and Newman Club colleges, the episcopal moderator of the NCWC Youth Council, said that Catholic college youth have the obligation to foster a much greater love for Christ on the campus.

The Archbishop continued in his address, which was broadcast by station WVOM, Boston, by saying that we also must increase our love for the poor. People have the notion nowadays, he said, to forget that there are many poor people around us who are suffering terribly, and whose faith is being endangered. The poor you always have with you, he stated. Let your actions be for them as often as you can.

Following an informal dance on Friday evening, delegates to the NFCCS adjourned to a council meeting where preparations were made for the workshop meetings Saturday. These took place at Boston College and were followed in the evening by a lecture. Rev. James Raile, S.J., a displaced Hungarian cleric, spoke on the Mindszenty case and Communism, at Jordan Hall.

A Pontifical Mass on Sunday morning at Holy Cross Cathedral was jammed with students and adults. Archbishop Cushing was celebrant of the Mass and he preached the sermon also. Sean McBride, Prime Minister of Ireland, was present at the special student's Mass and May Day observance.

In the afternoon at Emmanuel College, following a general business session and reading of reports, election of regional officers was held. The new president of the New England region is Frank Merrigan, a junior at St. Michael's College, Winooski, Vt. Miss Jayne Mycroft, of Salve Regina College, Newport, R. I., is vice-president. Treasurer is Miss Jeanne M. Dustin of Marlboro's Anna Maria College while Recording Secretary is Miss Mary Murray of Elms College, Chicopee. Miss Patricia Canning of Newton College is Corresponding Secretary.

Delegates from New England Colleges and the officers left Wednesday for Chicago where the National Congress is being held. It will end on Sunday. No delegates from Holy Cross are attending the Congress. Although Ray E. Donovan, of Holy Cross, former Vice-President of the Region, was to have attended as an officer and also to have represented the college, a change of Congress plans altered the trip.

"Showing off" the technique that made them a hit are, ladies first: Miss June M. Higgins, Miss Anne Marie Owens and Mrs. Vincent A. Tesell; the gentlemen: Charlie Crowley, Joe McKernan, Jerry Amitrani, Tom Leahy and Frank Judge.

Human Relations

The last regular meeting of the Human Relations Seminar was held on Monday, May 2. James Schouman delivered an address on the vital problem of housing. He stressed the need for adequate housing to relieve the current economic situation, and the disastrous effects which inadequate housing has had on strained race relations.

The Seminar mapped plans for a widening scope of activity to be commenced next year, with emphasis on securing new members.

In a preliminary meeting, it was decided to hold a farewell banquet on Friday evening, May 13.

DAY STUDENTS HEAR GAFFNEY'S SPEECH ON HEALTH INSURANCE

William Gaffney told the Day Student History Society last Tuesday that the United States must enact Compulsory Health insurance. He cited that many people in the country today are receiving inadequate medical care or no care at all. Gaffney admitted that the bill as proposed by President Truman is imperfect but thought that it was the best at the present time. A lively discussion period followed in which such charges as "monopoly" and "abuse" of the bill were made. A resolution favoring the bill was roundly defeated 20-6.

American Antiquarian Society Gives Volume

Shortly before Easter, the Library of the American Antiquarian Society presented a valuable and very interesting volume to the Dinand Library.

The gift is a presentation copy of Piranesi's work on the Magnificence of the Architecture of Rome, published in 1761. It is a large folio bound in calf, richly and splendidly decorated with broad borders painted in compartments in the Grolieresque style, the spaces between the frame-work painted as surfaces of various kinds of marble, or with delicately executed pictures of scenes in and around Rome. The little pictures in the borders are in themselves a triumph of miniature-art. In the center of both covers, front and back, are painted as centre-pieces the arms of Pope Clement III to whom the work was dedicated and for whose library this copy was especially bound. The edges are gaufered, that is, arabesques are painted over the gilt surface. The book contains many full page engravings and highly ornamented engraved miniatures for initial letters. The Latin text on one side and the Italian on the other are printed on heavy handmade paper. Within and without, the volume is a testimony to the care and skill of the 18th century bookmakers and binder who produced it.

After leaving the library of Clement XIII, this volume was in the collection of the Prince of Wales and still bears his bookplate.

Mr. Clarence S. Brigham, Director of the American Antiquarian Society, Mr. Clifford K. Shipton, its Librarian, and Mr. George S. Barton, a director, brought the book for presentation to our Library.

Their habitat varies, they're found every place,
You can tell it's a pest by the look on its face;
It sneaks up behind you and taps on your shoulder,
Immediately you know 'cause your blood runs colder;
A voice softly whispers, you're trapped in its net,
"Hi, there, pal — got a spare cigarette?"*

*But give him a smoke, and you're ready to fight
When he says, "Uh — would you slip me a light?"*

Music Clubs In Symphony Hall
Guest Conductor and Pianist Appear in Boston Benefit Concert

The Holy Cross Music Clubs presented a concert for the benefit of the Jesuit relief on Wednesday, April 27. Featured with the Glee Club and the Philharmonic were D'Artega, noted composer and conductor, and Roger Scime, child prodigy.

D'Artega as guest conductor directed the Philharmonic in his own composition, "In the Blue of Evening". The Philharmonic under D'Artega's deft hands responded with an articulate production of this well-known melody. Roger Scime aided by the Philharmonic lived up to his reputation with the playing of "Malequena." D'Artega once again resumed the podium and swept the Philharmonic through Katchaturian's "Sabre Dance."

Roger Scime, who is eleven years old, is a very versatile pianist indeed. He was called back time and again for encores. Roger literally stopped the show. This young man displayed a poise and finesse at the piano far beyond his years.

The Symphony Hall provided an incentive to the Glee Club which was met with a grace and charm not heretofore observed. The Glee Club's interpretation of "Dry Bones" was particularly enjoyed by the audience, so much in fact that it was sung again.

One of the highlights of the night's festivities was the visit of His Honor Mayor Curley and Mrs. Curley.

Fr. Bean's "Italian" Pal Highlight Of Colossal Show at Soph Smoker

More than three hundred howling Sophomores packed the banquet room of the Eden Gardens to overflowing last night, and sat in on a successful hoax that left them all cheering. After the midway intermission, Rev. Henry Bean, S.J., a Sophomore Rhetoric professor, calmed the house and with perfect seriousness introduced his distinguished guest, whom he said he had met at Saint Elizabeth's Hospital during the Easter holidays. This Doctor Emilio Volpe, Director of Physical Education at the University of Milan, revealed himself during his hilarious speech to be Sergeant Flaherty, of the police force of Watertown, Mass.

Manny Williams started the evening off on the right foot with his eye-popping feats of magic, and a humorous running commentary on anything that came to his mind. Everyone enjoyed his act except perhaps his stooges, Angi DiPippo and "Fingers" McCarthy. The only woman in the hall outside of the waitresses, vocalist Helene Wiedermann, appeared twice with her best efforts being "Smoke Gets In Your Eyes" and "The Sweetheart Song" from Maytime.

The kid boxers from the Worcester

Boys' Club traded leather from the opening bell, and had fistic "experts" in the audience wondering at the ring savvy and footwork of some of these eight and ten year olds. A one-hand-behind-the-back eight man battle royal climaxed their card.

Kelly and Wilson, the Negro dancing team, displayed a fancy exhibition of acrobatics and tap-dancing. Henny Lapine almost brought down the roof with his solo "singing".

Among the other fine acts featuring Sophomore talent, Harry Boehmer, Bill DeChard, The Peasants, and The Ravens excelled. John Stavola supplied the intermission music with his piano magic, and Sammy Cataudella how did he get in?) accompanied Miss Wiedermann.

The Glee Club held the finale spot on the entertainment program, with

PARENTS NIGHT PLANS ALL SET

Evening to Feature Student Entertainment

The most attractive program ever to be prepared by the Worcester Undergraduate Club members is in complete readiness and promises to make Sunday evening, May 8, an outstanding memory to the parents, friends, and relatives of the Worcester group that will be present at the Worcesterites' annual Parents' Night.

Commencing at 7.30 p.m. with students and their guests attending Benediction in the Chapel, the evening's program will be completed in Kimball Hall with the presentation of some "home town" talent in Kimball Auditorium and refreshments being served in Kimball Dining Hall.

Co-chairmen John E. Bennison and Henry A. Sullivan have been directing the "local yokels" into top-notch performers of the stage.

It was also made known at the meeting of the Worcester Club yesterday, that those members who wish to attend Sunday night may do so, even though they did not file their reservations with the chairmen last week. As many as 300 reservations have been filed and preparations have been made to accommodate another large group.

MASS. TOPPLES PURPLE NETMEN, ENDING VICTORY SKEIN AT THREE

REIM ONLY SINGLES WINNER FOR CROSS IN 6-3 UPSET

Coming up with a much stronger squad than was expected, the U. of Mass. pulled a minor tennis upset yesterday when they repelled the invading Holy Cross net team, 6-3, handing the Crusaders their first defeat in four matches.

Three Purple courtsters also suffered their initial individual setbacks, Jack Walsh, Fred Feuerbach and Manager Gerry Kierce, while Frank Reim captured the only singles victory gained by the Cross. All four now have 3-1 records for the season. The two Crusader doubles teams of Feuerbach and Reim and Ed Twomey and Bob Mann maintained their perfect records in the duo competition.

The Purple's No. 1 man, Feuerbach, took a severe trouncing from the Statesmen's John Cleverly, 6-0, 6-1. Cleverly showed ability the equal of Springfield's Ed Crocker, generally conceded to be the top collegiate performer in New England, as the Mass. ace held his service in every game of both this match and the subsequent doubles contest.

Reim wore down Wallace Jones in the first set and then ran away with the second one in nailing down the lone Cross triumph, 7-5, 6-1. Warren Lovelace toyed with Bill Luby in notching a 6-0, 6-2 win for the host team.

The Crusaders prefer to play an aggressive type of tennis and the remainder of the singles encounters followed a pattern as the capable Statesmen, playing a slow deliberate game in each of the matches, wore down the

Crusaders Defeat Clark and Tufts

The Holy Cross tennis team posted its second and third consecutive victories of the season by soundly whipping Clark 9-0 and then squeezing by Tufts, 5-4.

Last Friday afternoon across town at the Clark University courts the Holy Cross tennis team chalked up its second straight shutout defeating its second straight shutout defeating the Clark netters 9-0.

Fred Feuerbach, Frank Reim and Bill Luby were the first of the Cross team to take to the courts in the singles matches. Feuerbach started things off right by downing Dean Niarchos in straight sets 6-4 and 7-5. Reim then defeated Martin Goldman 4-6, 6-1 and 6-1. and Luby beat Oliver Boch 6-2 and 6-0.

Jack Walsh, Gerry Kierce and Pete Harrity were the next trio for the Purple netmen and they too won their matches. Walsh bested Bob Pentland 6-0 and 7-5, Kierce came out on top over Pete Niarchos 4-6, 6-2, 7-5 and Harrity downed Jim Cronin in a very close match 7-5, 5-7 and 7-5.

In doubles competition Feuerbach and Reim defeated Goldman and Niarchos, 6-2, 6-1, Kierce and Walsh topped Pentland and Hicks 6-3, 6-1, and then Ed Twomey and Bob Mann ended the match by defeating Ken Steingold and Marv Neiditz 6-1, 7-5 and 6-1.

Edge Tufts 5-4

On Saturday the Crusaders made it three straight victories by edging Tufts 5-4 in a match that was not decided until the final set.

Manning Paces Frosh Attack; Five Errors, Fifteen Walks Assist

The undefeated Holy Cross Frosh baseball team strolled to a 21 to 8 victory over the Brown Cubs at Fitton Field yesterday afternoon. Two Brown pitchers yielded 13 hits, and 15 base on balls, while at the same time falling victim to 5 errors in the four hour contest.

The Brown Frosh pounced on starter Jim Dilling for five hits and four runs in the first but Jim O'Neill who replaced Dilling in the second, held them to four runs over the rest of the route.

The Crusaders added one in the third without a hit, coupling two walks and an error and went ahead in the fourth 5-4. Manning, Felch and Morgan walked and then Frank Matrango smashed a long triple to left center driving all three home. McLinden singled Matrango home.

Holy Cross added five more runs in the sixth on singles by Turco, Concannon, Manning, Felch, Morgan and Matrango. Brown came up with two in the fifth and one in the sixth.

Going into the last of the eighth, Riopel's boys were leading 10 to 7 but here the roof fell on the Brown pitcher. Turco and Manning led off with singles, Heon walked and then Mike Morgan drove in two runs with a double. Six walks, an error, and a single by Jim O'Neill added nine more runs to complete the Cross scoring.

CRUSADERS TOP B. U. ON FIVE HITTER BY DONOVAN

B.U. Errors Costly; Porter With Two Singles Leads Hitting; Donovan in Trouble Only Twice

In another low-scoring, low-hitting game, Holy Cross defeated Boston University 3-0 at Nickerson Field yesterday. Tom Donovan went the route for the Crusaders, and limited the Terriers to five lone singles. Chartier, the B.U. hurler, was almost as effective as the five singles the "Hitless Wonders" could garnish will testify, but his own wildness and poor support on the part of his own teammates cost him the ball game.

In the first three innings, Chartier faced only 10 men, that tenth batter being Red Coyle's third inning single, his second hit of the season, and Holy Cross' first safety of the afternoon. In the home half of the second inning, Mills and Rickson both hit safely, but a routine fly to Lavery for the third out kept the Terriers from scoring.

The top-half of the fourth inning told the story of the game. Bob Dittmeyer led off with a base on balls, Frank Galvin flied to center field for the first out, and up came Ed Polak. He hit sharply to the shortstop, who could not find the handle, and then threw wild to first. The speedy Dittmeyer set sail for home when he saw the ball go into the dugout. When the first baseman finally retrieved the ball, he threw it over the catcher's head, trying to catch Dittmeyer, and Polak also scored.

These two runs proved to be more than enough, but as a precautionary measure, the Purple added a final tally in the ninth. In that inning Joe Frechette singled, and went to second on a wild pitch. After Donovan had received his third walk of the game, Billy Porter drove in Frechette with his second straight hit of the afternoon.

Donovan's only serious trouble of the game came in the sixth inning when Winkler singled with one man out. He then momentarily lost control when he passed Mills and hit Edwards with a pitched ball to load the bases. Bevins then hit into a fielder's choice, the play going from Porter to Polak. Then, with two men out, and the bases still loaded, Donovan forced Rickson to pop out to Galvin to retire the side without a score.

Again in the eighth inning Donovan

Bill Porter Leads Hitters With .423; Regulars Moving Along at .260 Clip

Bill Porter and Joe Frechette top the list of regulars in a recently compiled list of batting averages. Porter sports an amazing .423 mark for the seven college and exhibition games played thus far. Frechette follows with .333. The team average for the eight regulars excluding pitchers is .260.

Catcher Ed Polak and outfielder Bob Dittmeyer are the only other regulars in the charmed .300 circle with .316 and .308, respectively. Porter has also collected the most hits, eleven, to lead the squad in that department.

The long blows have been rather scarce so far with "Doc" Lavery and Bob Heon, sporting two doubles apiece, being the only players with more than one extra base hit. The team total is 9.

Ed Polak, the powerful cleanup man, is the club's leading run producer with four tallies driven in. Frechette, Heon and first sacker

"lefty" Galvin are right behind with three apiece.

Polak is evidently the feared man of the lineup as he leads the team in bases on balls, having drawn nine free tickets so far.

In the fielding line, a rather porous defense has kept the pitchers in constant danger. The team shows a decided weakness here as every member of the squad, exclusive of the pitchers has at least one error to his name. A grand total of 15. The pitchers have yet to miscue.

"Lefty" Galvin leads the infielders and the team with .972, while Joe Frechette paces the outer-gardeners with a .929 average. These figures include the games with the Bridgeport Bees and the Boston Braves.

THOSE HAWVAWD MUSCLES . . .

One more prediction really went astray last weekend when Harvard's field events crew proved very emphatically that all the muscles hadn't left The Yard with the departure of Sam Felton and Company from last season's squad. Those thirty-one points that the Johnnies picked up in the four weight tests alone just about accounted for the margin of their edge over the runnerup Purple. The Cross put up a stiff fight but just couldn't overcome that terrific margin. Then, too, the other two entries, B.U. and Northeastern, cut far more deeply into the running trials, the H.C. specialty than into the events dominated by the Crimson.

Bill Gould continued his usual battering of all available records in the dashes though in this instance he could only tie the existing marks for the arena in both his contests. Dick Ahern's mile and George Gallogly's javelin looked mighty good and Dan Kelley pulled a real surprise in gaining a deadlock for first in the high jump, but the Crusaders just didn't have the depth to take the meet. Tomorrow's little private vendetta with Providence shouldn't provide too much of a strain on Bart Sullivan, though these dual meets often do bring out upsets.

PROM FESTIVITIES EXTEND TO SPORTS

As usual, around the weekend for the Junior Prom, every sports outfit on the hill gets into action. Starting with the track meet with Providence here on Fitton Field, there is also a flight of B.C. Eagles coming in to tackle our undefeated tennis team here tomorrow. The golfers will also commence firing in the NCAA eliminations at Cambridge against Dartmouth, MIT and Brown and these will continue through Saturday. The Tennis team has another battle on their hands then with B.U. also on the courts just off Linden Lane. Of course, the baseball team is home to Dartmouth Saturday and the frosh nine moves up to Newton to tangle with the B.C. Eaglets. This is a busy period for the yacht club, too, with the New England Championships Saturday and Sunday.

IN BASEBALL, TOO? ? ? ?

Yep, it looks like the freshmen have come up with another corking team to go along with their football and basketball outfits and a couple of track stars. Right now, this gang doesn't look quite as potent in their field as the gridsters and cagers (each only once-beaten) but they're apparently able to garner plenty of hits, in direct contrast to the varsity clubs (as a whole) during the past few seasons. It's hard to judge how good they are against the present competition, though the Brown game may be some criterion, but they'll meet their severest test when they play the Eaglets. That Chestnut Hill crowd has been going all out for the diamond recently and that game will be a good proof of our own cubs. This Class of 1952 looks like one of the most athletically endowed classes ever to set foot on Pakachoag, good in all sports. Let's hope they keep it up and suffer no more losses like was accorded them in the midterm exams.

CASUAL COMMENTS

For a team with a supposedly shattered mound staff, the varsity nine is coming up with some mighty nicely pitched games. Perhaps the batting might even come around soon. It had better on Saturday because either Amireault or Hudak will give them plenty of trouble in the Green of Dartmouth. The Indians still look like dark horses from here but you never can tell what might come out of the hills of New Hampshire. An added incentive to our fires is the fact that our recent opponents seem to be ignoring us and saving their best chuckers for B.C. whenever the two games are close on the schedule. Let's reverse that opinion Saturday.

The racqueteers ran into some hard luck yesterday, hitting Mass. on a hot day and the Kiercemen (no longer unbeaten as noted above) will have to face plenty in the next week. After B.C. and B.U. during the next two days, they meet two of the best clubs in New England, R. I. State on Monday and Springfield (with Ed Crocker) Wednesday, both away.

Amherst Edges Purple Golfers

Crusaders Drop Close 4-3 Match; Visitors' Munsill Low With 76

The Holy Cross golfers lost a heart-breaking 4-3 match Tuesday at Wachusett Country Club to a surprisingly strong Amherst team. The Crusaders tried in vain to pull this one out of the fire. They were ahead at two stages in the match but fell behind in the fifth individual match and were never able to overcome the deficit.

Tracy Mehr once again played a brilliant game and this time he was rewarded with a one-up victory over Frank Diver. Mehr went over the wet course in a scorching 78 but was pressed all the way by Diver, who finally bowed out on the last hole.

Graff Mouen, co-captain of the Redmen, tied it all up by defeating Billy Wise 3 and 2. Wise was hampered by the damp course and was not able to play his usual steady game.

Newly-elected captain Bill Blackham shot a smooth 78 to come in ahead of Tom Wyman 5 and 4. The H. C. chieftain celebrated his new position by displaying some thrilling golf and waltzing to an easy triumph.

Gordon Russell, Amherst's other co-captain, deadlocked the match once again by subduing Dick Eagan 2 and 1. Eagan, who has been the most consistent Cross golfer so far this season, had a rather poor day.

Mark Munsill was low medalist for the day with a 76. Munsill defeated Paul McEvoy 2 and 1. McEvoy played good enough to win most matches but Munsill was extraordinary this particular day.

"Tillie" Daniels put Amherst in the lead for the first time by defeating Dave Keeney 3 and 2.

John Nagle, who was recently elected manager for the second consecutive year, defeated Ken Bowman 5 and 4.

Golfers Top Lowell, Blanked by Eagles

The golf team broke into the win column for the first time this season as they defeated the Lowell Textile Club 6-1 at the Wachusett Country Club last Friday.

Tracy Mehr got the team off on the right foot by beating Bill Rumbolt 6 and 5.

John Hayes gained the only victory for the Lowellites as he triumphed over Bill Wise 4 and 3. Bill has been playing in tough luck all season long and Friday's match was no exception.

Dick Eagan continued his winning ways as he blasted his way to a 6 and 5 victory over Bob Scott.

Bill Blackham displayed some terrific shots from all over the green as he went on to beat Frank Pollack 6 and 4.

Paul McEvoy shot an 84 to defeat Frank Strinzik 7 and 6. Dave Keeney with a 89 whipped Charles Whitehead 4 and 2. John Nagle completed the rout by conquering Jack Evans 9 and 7. John shot an 85.

The Cross linksmen were soundly beaten by Boston College on Monday at the Commonwealth Country Club 7-0. The boys from Chestnut Hill had too much power for our boys and romped easily.

Dick Kinchla, New England Intercollegiate champion in 1949, started the romp by defeating John Nagle 6 and 1. Dick was re-elected manager of the team. He is a nine handicap man at the spring Lake Country Club.

FROSH NOTCH VICTORIES OVER HARVARD, CUSHING

Leo Cedrin and Jim O'Neill Winning Pitchers; Hitters Break Loose in 10-9 and 16-1 Conquests

The Holy Cross Freshmen staved off a late Harvard rally to edge the Cantab cubs in a slugfest, 10-9, at Soldiers Field, Cambridge. The game was called after eight innings because of darkness.

Leo Cedrin started for the Frosh, and was not hit hard, but his wildness proved troublesome. He gave up six bases on balls, while striking out ten. Jim O'Neill came in as a relief pitcher late in the game, and quelled a Harvard rally. Donelon went all the way for the Crimson, giving up 14 hits, and 4 walks.

The Harvardites took a 3-2 lead in the first, but the Purple scored a single tally in the top of the third to tie it, only to have the Crimson forge ahead with two runs in the bottom of the third. The Cross came back with four in the fourth, and single markers in the sixth, seventh, and eighth to lead 10-6 going into the last of the eighth. With darkness closing in, the Crimson Frosh just missed a tie as they came up three runs in this frame, but O'Neill bore down to protect a one run lead, and give the Frosh their second straight win.

Bob Manning, and Jack Felch were the batting stars for the Purple, each with three hits, one of Manning's being a three base knock. Dick Heon also chipped in with a triple.

An eleven run explosion in the sixth inning blew Cushing Academy sky-high as the Holy Cross Freshman Baseball team rolled to its third straight victory by the overwhelming score of 16-1. The game was played last Saturday at the losers' field in Ashburnham.

Sturdy Jim O'Neill went the route for the victors, distributing 7 safeties along the way. He also wielded a mighty bat in the contest as he punched out three hits, drove in three runs and scored another himself. Catcher Blinn also enjoyed a good day for the Crusader cause with 3 hits.

Three hits, three errors, and five walks composed the big frame. Up until this it was quite a ball game with the Purple holding a slim 2-1 margin.

While O'Neill refrained from giving away any walks, Lawrence, the losing pitcher, handed out 8, and his successor, Kerr, added 5 more. O'Neill claimed 8 strikeouts victims, while Lawrence was whiffing 2.

The Crusaders managed only 12 hits to furnish their 16 runs but the large number of gift passes helped their cause.

John Turco, playing third base for the Holy Cross Frosh, drove in three runs also.

pitched himself out of trouble. Sheehan, the lead-off batter singled, and took second on Coyle's misplay of Mills' grounder. An infield out advanced both runners, but with men on second and third, Bevins again ended the threat by hitting into an easy infield out. With two men out in the ninth Garabedian tried to keep the game going with a single, but an infield fly to Coyle ended the threat and the game.

Porter's batting average continued to rise with two hits in five attempts. Lavery, Frechette, and Coyle accounted for the other hits.

Art Brown of Mass. outlasted Walsh in a marathon, 8-6, 6-4, to make the count 3-1. Kierce forced the play in his second set with Fred Beauregard, but was edged by the parballer.

In the doubles, Feuerbach and Reim toppled Cleverly and Lovelace, 6-2, 4-6, 6-4, while Twomey and Mann routed a Mass. duo of Wogan and Schwartz, by 6-3, 6-0. Brown and Beauregard united to stop Kierce and Walsh, 6-4, 6-3 to prevent a Crusader sweep of the doubles.

Murphy defeated Dick Eagan 2 up. Dick shot an 81 as he dropped his first match of the season. Jim Campbell beat Paul McEvoy 2 up in the final match of the day. Paul toured the course in 82.

Track Team Places 2nd To Harvard Bill Gould Scores Double In Sprint

Dick Ahern Wins Close Mile Run in Fast 4:24.9;

While Holy Cross and Boston University took turns cutting one another's throats in the running events, Harvard University rolled up a decisive margin in the field events and went on to take first place in the quadrangular meet at Soldiers' Field last Saturday. The Crimson garnered 74½ points as compared to 42½ for the Purple, 36 for the Bulldogs and 21½ for Northeastern's Huskies.

The day's most sparkling performance was easily that turned in by Crusader Bill Gould who scored a double victory in the sprints. Gould's remarkable times of 9.8 in the 100 and 21.3 in the 220 both equalled the track record at Soldiers' Field. Frannie Murphy copped a second place for the Purple in the longer sprint and finished fourth in the 100-yard dash.

In one of the meet's most exciting races, HC's Dick Ahern fought off a strong bid by Northeastern's Kenyon in the final quarter of the mile run and went on to annex his specialty in 4:24.9. Ahern finished third in the 880, trailing Kenyon and Al Ruby of Harvard in that order.

Another thriller occurred in the two mile run where George McVey of the Cross and Bob Foley of B.U. were never separated by more than five yards from start to finish. Foley led all the way and had enough kick left to withstand McVey's gallant bid in the last hundred yards of the race.

George Gallogly grabbed a first place in the javelin and a third in the discus from Harvard's talented huskies, accounting for seven of the nine points that the Purple could salvage from the weight events. Pete Frasca scored the other two by virtue of fourths in both the discus and the shot put. Harvard incidentally amassed 31 of their points in the four weight contests. Geoff Tootell was the big gun for the Crimson in these events, equalling Gould's feat with wins in both the shot and the discus.

The Purple's only other first place came in the high jump where Dan Kelley of the Crusaders finished in a three-way tie with Harvard's Jack Harrigan and Northeastern's favored Willette.

The mile relay, won by Harvard, resulted in a painful injury to the Purple's Jerry McDavitt who suffered a spike wound in the right foot while taking the baton from Barry Reed. Despite a strong finish by anchor man George Finn, the Cross was forced to settle for runner-up honors.

Providence College's youthful but improving trackmen will offer the next challenge to Bart Sullivan's squad when the Friars and Crusaders tangle in a dual meet at Fitton Field tomorrow afternoon.

H. C. TAKES 9-6 SLUGFEST FROM PROVIDENCE; FORMON'S RELIEF PITCHING GIVES HIM THIRD WIN

Heon and Lavery Set Hitting Pace

Showing some hitting power, the Varsity Baseball team made it three in a row as they pounded three Providence College pitchers for 12 hits and a 9-6 victory on Fitton Field last Saturday. Matt Formon, allowing two runs in five innings of relief hurling, notched his third win in four decisions.

Third baseman Bob Heon cracked two doubles and two singles in five trips to the plate to take hitting honors for the day. "Doc" Lavery was next as he got three for five, one double and two singles.

The game started off with a bang when Larry DePalma, Providence, lead off batter, cracked a sharp single to left. He stole second and then continued to third when catcher Ed Polak's throw was wide and got away from "Red" Coyle.

Unearned Run

With DePalma on third Pitcher Tom Donovan settled down and struck out Tom Sullivan, the right fielder. The next batter sent a sharp grounder to shortstop Billy Porter who bobbled the ball and DePalma scampered home with the first run of the game.

Donovan struck out Sam Nissel, the clean-up hitter, and then he walked first baseman Dick Maloney, Donovan's wildness continued and he beamed Owen Beatty, but with the bases loaded, the next batter popped out to Joe Frechette in short center to end the inning.

The Cross came right back in their half of the first with three runs as Porter was safe on an error, Bob Dittmeyer walked and, when Porter made a break for second on the walk, the Providence catcher threw to second where no one was covering, and Porter went on to third. With Dittmeyer on second and Porter on third, "Lefty"

Galvin sacrificed scoring Porter and moving Dittmeyer to third. Polak walked and "Doc" Lavery hit an infield grounder and Dittmeyer was thrown out trying to score.

Bob Heon cracked a long double to left scoring both Polak and Lavery and giving the Cross a two-run advantage. Joe Frechette grounded out, leaving Heon on second.

Formon Takes Over

Donovan coasted until the fourth inning when two successive singles, a double, an infield out, and a long fly resulted in three runs for Providence. Donovan retired the side then; but he was yanked in favor of a pinch hitter in the same inning. Formon then took over.

Bob Heon was given his second double when center fielder Sam Nissel lost the ball in the sun. Frechette sacrificed him to third from where he scored on Coyle's fly to center.

In the meantime Formon had allowed only one hit in four innings. The Purple seemingly sewed up the game for him in the eighth when three walks and four singles resulted in four runs giving them a five run advantage, 9-4. Ten men came to bat in that inning.

In the first half of the ninth, pinch-hitter "Whitey" Weinstock singled to left. He was replaced by a pinch runner and then Larry DePalma got a hold of one of Formon's fast balls and hit a home run over Joe Frechette's head in deep center, the ball coming to rest out at the 420 foot sign. Sullivan, the next batter, singled and it looked as though a rally was in the making before Walter Lazoski hit into a fast double play, Coyle to Porter to Galvin.

Fred Feuerbach again won his opening match over Mel Berger, 6-3, 6-0. However, the Purple lost two matches as Tom Whalen beat Frank Reim in straight sets 6-3, 6-4, and Dick Tenney bested Bill Luby 1-6, 6-2 and 6-3.

Jack Walsh and Gerry Kierce put the Cross team back in the running as Walsh defeated Phil Hirtle 7-5, 6-4 and Kierce beat Jerry Sapolsky 3-6, 6-3 and 6-1. Ken Killam of Tufts closed the singles matches with a victory over Pete Harrity 3-6, 6-4 and 6-3.

The doubles proved to be the deciding factor as the Cross captured two out of three matches. Feuerbach and Reim defeated Berger and Whalen 6-1, 6-3, but Tufts came right back as Tenny and Hirtle beat Kierce and Walsh 6-2 and 6-0.

Ed Twomey and Bob Mann then took the court and victory or defeat for the Purple team was completely in their hands. Things looked bad for the Cross duo as Jerry Sapolsky and Wes Perkins won the first set 4-6. However, Twomey and Mann swept the next two sets 6-4 and 6-2. Twomey was all over the court and also showed a fine net game.

All comments during and after were favorable, indicating that a good time was had by all. In fact, many Sophomores were heard to remark on the way out that this show was so terrific it deserved repetition next year as the Junior Jamboree.

Gym Decorations Outstanding

The gym decorations promise to be the best ever. The Decorations Committee with Bob Ware at the helm have spared no expense to transform the gym into a thing of beauty. Littlefield's Florists of Worcester have started decorating and promise that basketball courts and field house atmosphere will be completely hidden by a real pool, real evergreens, and trellises.

Favors will remain a secret until tomorrow night but here again the committee has gone all out for the best.

Saturday activities include the Dartmouth-Holy Cross baseball game in the afternoon at 2:00 p.m. This should be one of the best and might possibly decide the New England NCAA entrant.
